

MANY IMPORTANT GRIDIRON TILTS SCHEDULED FOR THIS AFTERNOON

New York, Nov. 10.—The first of the "Big Three" football classics—the Harvard-Princeton clash at Boston—over shadows all other games on eastern gridirons tomorrow. Both eleven appear to be evenly matched and the outcome probably will depend upon the breaks of the play and the individual efforts of one or more players.

Other important contests between apparently evenly matched eleven will be Army and Notre Dame; Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania; and Bucknell and Lehigh.

Contests in which this approximate equal strength does not appear to exist will include Cornell vs. Dartmouth, Maryland vs. Yale, McGill vs. Syracuse, Navy vs. St. Xavier, and Lafayette and Rutgers. That upsets of surprisingly low scores are possible will be admitted by all who have followed the football play of the fall, but on general form no upsets are anticipated.

Tigers Are Determined
Princeton goes to Boston determined to defeat Harvard. The Tiger has not won from the Crimson on the latter's home gridiron since 1896. While Harvard is slightly favored to win, every indication points to a two-hour fought contest. Princeton will go into the game prepared to give every last ounce of effort and determination. It is no secret that the eleven has been carefully pointed for this particular game.

Harvard probably has a better line and a smoother execution of plays. Individually, the Crimson players are further advanced in the game of football than the Tigers. On the other hand, Princeton possesses several stars who have shown exceptional aptitude for forward passing, catching and broken field running. There is no lack of fighting spirit in the Nassau team and Princeton is never defeated until the final whistle, as witness the recent game with Chicago. The contest will probably resolve itself into a more or less perfect football machine opposed to a less cohesive eleven, but one extremely dangerous due to the calibre of the individual players.

Army-Notre Dame Attraction
Second in importance among the eastern games will be the inter-sectional struggle on the West Point plains between the Army and Notre Dame. The middle western combination comes east undefeated and with a remarkable record for all-round ability, including the old-fashioned plunging advance and the overhead attack. All of which is a testimonial to the coaching ability of Knute Rockne, who has been forced to develop an almost entirely new team in the space of the few days of last season.

The Army, however, has far different a combination from that which was defeated by Notre Dame last year, 23-0. The team is stronger in every department. Although the soldiers have faced Yale, Auburn, Kansas and Springfield, all playing different forms of offense, the Army is still undefeated. The 7-7 tie with Yale is the closest approach to a setback experienced by the Cadets to date. They will undoubtedly give Notre Dame a harder contest than in any previous season and the visitors will have to uncover their best football to win.

Pittsburgh will have a slight advantage over Pennsylvania when they face at Philadelphia. The Quakers, however, may be eased if the Quakers develop again the fighting spirit which resulted in the overthrow of the Navy. The game is one of Lafayette against Rutgers. The latter eleven has the weight and power, but apparently lacks the finer football sense and development to cope with the Easton, Pa., aggregation.

Yale Captain of Victory
Yale should have no difficulty in defeating Maryland, which has already lost to both Princeton and Pennsylvania. Syracuse should win from McGill University of Canada, for the latter team devotes much of its gridiron time to the rugby game. Its excursion into the realms of the intercollegiate contest is merely a side issue, although the players from across the border are well versed in the use of the lateral pass, tackling and other fundamentals of football, as played in the U. S.

Dartmouth probably will give Cornell a stiffer battle than last year when the Green was defeated 59-7, but it does not appear probable that the Hanover eleven can stop the undefeated Ithaca scoring machine. Dartmouth already has lost to Vermont and Harvard, and had a narrow squeak in the game with Boston University last Saturday, although not using first string players. Cornell's schedule this season has not included many formidable combinations, but the power and scoring ability of the Ithaca eleven mark it as one of exceptional strength.

Other Games
Among the other games Washington and Jefferson will face Wabash and the Middle West team will have to be high class to stop the Presidents after the showing they made against Lafayette a week ago. Baylor University will also invade the south to meet Boston college. The Waco, Tex., team is considered one of the strongest in the southwest and although defeated by Boston last season, should give the New England eleven another good battle.

Navy in playing St. Xavier, Brown against Bates, and Columbia facing Middlebury. The latter three are considered practice games, but Carnegie Tech and Penn State, Wesleyan and Williams, and Trinity and Amherst should produce a football game of a far sterner type.

The principal games of the east tomorrow, with last season's scores follow:
Princeton at Harvard 10-3.
Pittsburgh at Penn 35-0.
Maryland at Yale 0-23.
Notre Dame at Army 23-0.
Cornell vs. Dartmouth at N. Y. 59-7.
Carnegie Tech at Penn State 7-23.
Lafayette at Rutgers 59-0.
Wesleyan at Williams 0-40.
Rochester at Colgate 0-41.
Baylor University at Boston college 1-33.

Bucknell at Lehigh, did not meet.
St. Xavier at Navy, did not meet.
Bates at Brown, did not meet.
Trinity at Amherst, did not meet.
Middlebury at Columbia, did not meet.

McGill at Syracuse 0-13.
Wabash at W. & J., did not meet.

NORWICH MAY DROP OUT OF BAY STATE CIRCUIT

According to information regarding the meeting of the Bay State Circuit at Worcester on Thursday there is a possibility that Norwich will be dropped out of the circuit. The reason given for this is that all the desirable dates have been taken by other members which leaves Norwich with the wind-up meeting late in August.

Norwich had the last meeting of the past season and together with rain and many entries being withdrawn the race at the fall fair the members proved rather tame and unprofitable to the sponsors of the local meeting.

Norwich wants the week before Windsor or the two weeks following Windsor as the former week is held by Avon and the latter two by Springfield and Northampton respectively. Norwich's chances are rather slim. Nothing, however, will be done until the next meeting in Boston in February when dates will be assigned.

BROWN WILL OPEN UP ON BATES TEAM

Providence, Nov. 10.—Brown intends to let loose against Bates tomorrow with the single object of improving its offensive in anticipation of the coming battles with Harvard and Dartmouth. The Bears are expected to let the signal, will be largely an open one. Since Tuesday the work in practice has been confined almost wholly to polishing forward pass plays and the great weakness of the otherwise strong Brown team.

It is expected that the game will be a lively affair as Bates is coming to town well primed for a fight as Brown is. The Maine collegians are at the height of their stride, having topped their ancient enemy, Bowdoin, 7-3, and lapped the hitherto unbeaten Massachusetts colleges 6-0, in the last two weeks. As Bowdoin held Harvard to 15 points in the Crimson's third game of the season, the Brown coaches are not letting the men get the idea that the visitors tomorrow will be easy picking.

There are no radical changes contemplated in the Brown line that was used at Yale when the Elites tried to rush the bill. McDermott, the heaviest guard on the squad, may start in Barrett's place as Barrett is a trifle fine and can stand the tackle plays. Eckett will do the punting. Rubel may also begin the game, with the veteran Sprague ready for relief. Johnstone and Schmitz will be the backs, with the reliable Captain Gullan and John Spellman, called by the critics who have seen them, two of the best linemen in the east, will fill the tackle positions. The Elites will do the passing, while Duffy Myers is now first choice as quarterback because of his excellent work in the Yale bowl. Sweet, Adams and either Faulkner or Swaney will complete the backfield.

ACADEMY AND BULKELEY CLASH ON CAMPUS TODAY

With a final workout yesterday afternoon the N. F. A. gridironers thoroughly polished their machine for action against Bulkeley this afternoon. The Academy team is fit and there is no doubt but what they will offer unexpected opposition to their heavier opponent. The Bulkeley team, Coach McKay is doing some heavy thinking in regard to the lineup. Captain Williams and "Phil" McNamara are pre-eminently chosen for two backfield positions while the remaining two gaps will be chosen from Kilroy, Milecki, Walk and Spaulding.

Yesterday was the day at N. F. A. and it is understood that every student has pledged himself to be among the rooters' band. Manager Connor was extra fortunate in arranging the Bulkeley game as an armistice day attraction and the local fans will no doubt turn out in large numbers to witness the battle. Adequate preparations have been made for a record attendance and the crowd is requested to keep behind the ropes and give the players a fair chance.

SIKI CANT BOX IN NEW YORK SAYS MULDOON

New York, Nov. 10.—Battling Siki, under ban by the French boxing commission, and excluded from the ring in mixed bouts in the United Kingdom, encountered another obstacle to his pugilistic aspirations tonight when William Muldoon, chairman of the New York State athletic commission, announced that the Senegalese would not be permitted to engage in contests in this state until he had been cleared of charges brought against him by all other organizations.

The French boxing federation, in addition to suspending the Senegalese for nine months, took away his title of light heavyweight champion of France.

It is reported that the national boxing association of America which includes all the state in which boxing is permitted, with the exception of New York and Massachusetts, will be asked to uphold the ruling of the British government and the French federation.

Followers of boxing consider the sentence one of the most severe imposed in the history of boxing.

THREE UNDEFEATED TEAMS MEET IN WEST TODAY

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Three undefeated winners of the western conference championship race—Chicago, Wisconsin and Iowa—will swing into action tomorrow in games that will result in further elimination in the scramble for the title. Michigan, the fourth undefeated contender will be idle.

Chief interest will center in the hostilities at Columbus, where Chicago will play the twice defeated Ohio State eleven and the Iowa-Minnesota clash at Iowa City. Wisconsin will meet Illinois, twice vanquished team at Madison. Northwestern and Purdue, each nursing two defeats, will collide at Evanston, while Indiana will venture from the "Big Ten" ranks for a home coming game with West Virginia at Bloomington.

Primed for a battle more fierce than their encounter with Princeton and confident of squaring accounts for two previous defeats Chicago, with two weeks of rest, is ready to meet the Buckeyes. Chicago is conceded to have the stronger line, but there is doubt concerning the defensive strength of the Maroons when forced to cope with a speedy aerial attack.

HARVARD READY TO ATTEMPT THE TAMING OF THE PRINCETON TIGER

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 10.—The football eleven of Princeton and of Harvard clash in the first of the season's play, will meet in the stadium tomorrow. The 52,000 spectators have in prospect a game likely to be close and to develop individual exploits for which the Crimson-Tiger rivalry is famous. The contest will be the first of the three that will count toward the championship of the "Big Three."

The teams finished their preparatory work today on the same field, the gridiron that will be tomorrow's scene and found it firm. There had been some speculation whether it would slough off entirely recent rains. The opening lineups of each eleven were announced by Coaches Fisher and Roper, but no hint was given of the strategy to be employed. It was expected there would be revelations from each side; Princeton's in the possible form of a passing game developed around the aerial work shown in the Chicago game; Harvard's from some quarters unknown. To date this season the Crimson has not been forced to dip very deeply into its bag of tricks and is known to have several that may be let loose in an emergency, although intended principally for the game with Yale.

The Princeton players went through their practice with the cheers of a group of alumni who went to the stadium to see them in action. Harvard's Brown went away almost in silence, the usual march to the field and cheers for team and individuals having been omitted this year.

Both teams spent the night at the country club in Belmont, only a few miles from the stadium.

The probable lineups as announced by the coaches follow:

Harvard

Left End..... Jenkins

Center..... Dickinson

Right Guard..... Hubbard
